OKLAHOMA CITY THUNDER NOTES

Playoff Bound: With their 121-116 victory this past weekend over the Dallas Mavericks (4/3), the OKC franchise solidified their first playoff berth since the 2004-05 season. Despite losing their last two contests, the Thunder enters tonight's game versus Phoenix with 48 wins a year after posting 23 victories during the team's inaugural season in Oklahoma City. The Thunder is just the eleventh team in the last 10 years to double their win total from one season to the next (Most recently: Miami Heat won 43 in 2008-09 after 15 wins in 2007-08).

And the Thunder Rolls: Despite Wednesday's loss to the Denver Nuggets, Oklahoma City owns a 24-9 record (.727) dating back to January 29th. The .727 winning percentage during this span is 5th best in the NBA. OKC is in the midst of a six-game offensive outburst in which the team has gone 4-2 while averaging better than 115 points on 49.3% shooting.

That's Improvement: After finishing with a record of 23-59 (.280) a season ago, Oklahoma City has shown material improvement this year. With 78 games played during the 2009-10 season, OKC has compiled a record of 48-30 (.615) which represents a 33.5% improvement in winning percentage year-over-year. The 33.5% improvement leads the NBA this season (Memphis ranks second with a 20.7% year-over-year improvement).

NBA's Leading Scorer...Down to the Wire: In recent days Kevin Durant and LeBron James have each taken turns leading the NBA in scoring. Heading into tonight's match-up versus the Suns, KD (29.9 ppg) finds himself leading LeBron (29.7) ever so slightly in the race for the league's scoring title. If KD were to lead the league in scoring at season's end, he would become the first ever OKC franchise player to accomplish the feat.

Chart Topper: In his third NBA season, Kevin Durant has already set the all-time franchise record for most points scored in a single season. With his 36th point during OKC's win over Minnesota on 4/4, KD passed Dale Ellis for the all time single season scoring title with his 2,254th point of the year. Last month, Durant reached the 2,000 point plateau with his three-point field goal at the 3:39 mark of the third quarter during the Thunder's loss to the Indiana Pacers on 3/21. KD reached the 2,000 point threshold in just his 68th game of the season and in doing so he becomes one of only two NBA players to accomplish the feat at age 21 or younger. LeBron James reached the 2,000-point scored plateau in his 65th game during the 2005-06 season at the age of 21.

Franchise-High Points (single season)
	Season	Points
Kevin Durant	2009-10	2,336
Dale Ellis	1988-89	2,253
Spencer Haywood	1972-73	2,251

Making them Look Free: KD has been to the free throw line with regularity this season and he currently ranks 7th in the NBA by shooting 89.7% from the charity stripe. Durant's 716 free throw makes are an all-time OKC Thunder franchise record and the most in a single-season since Michael Jordan recorded 723 free throw makes during the 1987-88 season. KD currently ranks 11th all-time for most free throws made in a single season and he is the ONLY player in NBA history to convert 700+ free throws while shooting better than 89.0%.

Boards are the Barometer: With the NBA schedule down to the final weeks, rebounding has proven to be a key element of the Thunder's early-season success. OKC who ranks 4th in the NBA in rebounding, has outrebounded their opponent in 53 of 78 games this season. In those games, OKC posts a 39-14 record. Meanwhile, the Thunder is just 9-16 when they fail to rebound their opponent. During a three-game stretch to close-out 2009 (12/23 at PHX – 12/28 at NJ), OKC outrebounded their opponent by 10 or more in each of the three straight contests. It had been four years since the OKC franchise last outrebounded their opponent by 10+ in three consecutive games (12/23/05 – 12/29/05). On the season, the Thunder is 16-1 when outrebounding their opponent by 10 or more.

"Sweep" Success: The Thunder has already wrapped-up 17 of their 18 back-to-backs this season. This past weekend the Thunder "swept" the Mavericks (4/3) and Timberwolves (4/4) for their fifth "sweep" of a B-2-B this season. Last week, OKC secured a "sweep" by defeating the Philadelphia 76ers (3/30) and the Boston Celtics (3/31) on consecutive nights. This marks the first time the OKC franchise has swept consecutive back-to-backs since March of 2001. At the end of 2009, the Thunder captured a "sweep" of a back-to-back match-up by defeating the Nets and Wizards on 12/28 and 12/29. It was the first "sweep" of a B-2-B by the OKC franchise since March 27th and 28th of 2007. During the teams' 17 already completed back-to-backs this season, the Thunder secured a "split" in seven of those match-ups to go along with five "sweeps". This year, the Thunder is 9-8 on the first night of a back-to-back and 8-9 on the second night. Last season, the Thunder posted an 8-28 record in their back-to-back match-ups (3-15 in first game, 5-13 in second game).

Road Warriors: With their victory over the Minnesota Timberwolves (2/21), the Thunder won five consecutive road games for the first time since February of 2005. Already this season, the Thunder has pieced together three separate three-game road winning streaks. As a point of reference, the OKC franchise failed to win three straight road contests in each of the last two seasons. Despite their loss to the Jazz at Energy Solutions arena (4/6), OKC still owns a 23-16 record away from the Ford Center. The 23 road wins exceeds the combined road win total for the past two seasons (15). The Thunder is one of TEN teams to boast a winning road record this season and only three team have more road victories than OKC (BOS, CLE & DAL).

Russell Rules: After recording double-figure assist totals nine times during his rookie season (2008-09), Russell Westbrook tallied his 27th double-figure assist game of this season vs. the Minnesota Timberwolves on 4/4. He has now recorded double-doubles half of the Thunder's last 30 games (24 double-doubles on the season). Included in that stretch, Westbrook registered his second career triple-double 2/21 at Minnesota where he finished the night with 22 points to go along with 10 rebounds and 14 assists. Westbrook, who currently ranks T-7th in the NBA with 8.0 assists per game, recorded double-figure assist totals in four straight contests (12/28 – 1/2). The last OKC franchise player to record such a feat was Gary Payton who handed-out 10-plus assists in four consecutive games during the 2001-02 season (1/3/02 – 1/10/02). Oklahoma City is 22-5 this year when Westbrook records 10+ assists.

30 Never Looked so Good: With his game-high 33 points two nights ago versus Denver, Kevin Durant registered his 43rd 30-plus scoring game of the season. The 43 games of 30+ points are the MOST in the NBA this year. Most importantly, the Thunder is 29-14 when Durant scores 30+. With four games remaining in the regular season, Durant has already set the franchise-record for most 30-point games in a season (Spencer Haywood 35 games of 30+; 1972-1973). Earlier this year, Durant set an all-time franchise record by scoring 30+ points in SEVEN consecutive contests (12/22 – 1/2). During this two-week long run, Durant posted averages of 33.6 points on 56.8% shooting (84-148 FG's) including 45.8% shooting from behind the 3-point arc (11-24). LeBron James was the last NBA player to piece together a seven-game string of 30+ (Nov. 2007).

A Run for the Record-Books: In a streak that spanned 64 days, Kevin Durant became the ONLY active NBA player to score 25 or more points in 29 consecutive games. The streak which began 12/22 at LAL came to an end on 2/24 when Durant recorded a team-high 21 points in the Thunder's loss to San Antonio. During the 29-game run, the Thunder posted a record of 20-9 as KD averaged 32.4 points on 50.8% shooting including 50.0% (51-102) from behind the three-point arc. Durant becomes the first player in NBA history under the age of 22 to piece-together 29

Longest Streaks of 25+ Points (All Active NBA players)
	Date	Streak
Kevin Durant (OKC)	Dec 2009-Current	29
Allen Iverson (PHI)	Jan-Mar, 2001	27

Kobe Bryant (LAL)	Two occasions	19

straight games of 25+ points. Ray Allen held the previous franchise mark by recording 25-plus in ten straight games during the 2006-07 season. Michael Jordan was the last player to exceed KD's streak when he recorded 25+ points in 40 straight games during the 1986-87 season.

Feasting on the East: With their 109-104 victory over the Boston Celtics on 3/31, OKC concluded their schedule vs. Eastern Conference opponents by finishing with a 22-8 record. On the season, the Thunder "swept" EIGHT Eastern Conference opponents (Miami, Detroit, Washington, Atlanta, New York, New Jersey, Toronto and Philadelphia) while defeating 14-of-15 teams in the conference (0-2 vs. Cleveland). The 22 wins against "The East" are more than twice the Thunder road win total for all of last season. Last season, the Thunder failed to "sweep" a single Eastern Conference foe as OKC concluded the year with an 8-22 mark against "The East".

March Madness: The 11 wins by the Thunder in March are the most wins in a month since the OKC franchise won 11 games in March of 2005. OKC has now posted four consecutive winning months for the first time since the 2004-05 season.

Winning with D: Despite allowing a season-high 140 points to the Jazz earlier this week, the Thunder still ranks 11th in the NBA by allowing 97.7 points per game (allowed 103.1 points per game last season). The Thunder has held their opponent to 90 points or fewer in twenty one games this season (19-2 record in such contests). Oklahoma City also ranks 6th in opponent field goal percentage as the Thunder allow their opposition to shoot 44.6%. Lastly, defense is quickly becoming the trademark during Thunder victories this season. In the 48 Thunder wins (SAC, DET, ORL, LAC, SA, MIA, WAS, UTA, MIL, PHI, GS, MEM, DET, PHX, CHA, NJ, WAS, UTA, CHI, IND, NY, MIA, ATL, MIN, DEN, GS, ATL, NO, GS, POR, DAL, NY, MIN, TOR, SAC, LAC, SAC, NO, NJ, UTA, TOR, HOU, LAL, PHI, BOS, DAL and MIN), OKC is allowing only 94.7 points per game on 43.7% shooting.

Filling up the Ford: The Thunder began the 2009-10 season right where they left off... with another sellout. Those that made up the capacity crowd of 18,203 on opening night (10/28/09) in Oklahoma City were greeted with a new and improved Ford Center. As part of a taxpayer funded initiative passed in March 2008, numerous arena improvements were recently completed. The Ford Center now boasts a state-of-the art scoreboard, new terrace suites and a courtside club to go along with a new and improved Thunder locker room. This season, the Thunder has posted 26 sellouts while drawing an average crowd of 17,987 representing 98.8% capacity. Most recently, OKC has sold-out nine straight contests and 15 of the last 18 games dating back to 1/27. During the Thunder's inaugural season in OKC (2008-09), the Ford Center recorded 18 sellouts (19,136) including eight consecutive to end the season. In 41 home games, the Thunder's average attendance topped the 18,700 mark (11th best in the NBA), accounting for an average capacity of nearly 98.0%.

Worth Noting: During the Thunder's 113-107 victory over the Sacramento Kings on 3/2, Kevin Durant (39 points/10 rebounds) and Russell Westbrook (30 points/13 assists) finished with their 19th and 17th double-doubles of the year, respectively. This marks the first time in NBA history that two teammates, each age 21 or younger, each had a 30/10 game.

Youth Movement: As of February 24, the Oklahoma City Thunder is the youngest team in the NBA with an average age of 24 years and 338 days (Memphis 2nd youngest; 24 years, 364 days). Additionally, as of opening night (10/28), the OKC starting lineup (Durant, Green, Krstic, Sefolosa and Westbrook) was the youngest in the league with an average age of 23 years and 179 days. For a matter of comparison, the age of the average NBA roster is 26 years and 329 days and the oldest team in the league entering the 2009-10 season was the San Antonio Spurs with an average age of 29 years and 73 days (as of opening night). There are currently nine players on the Thunder roster age 23 or younger.

New and Improved: In his second NBA season, Thunder guard Russell Westbrook has shown an improved all-around game. During his first 78 contests, Westbrook is averaging 16.3 points, 8.0 assists and 4.8 rebounds in 34.3 minutes per game. Only a select number of NBA players have maintained such averages throughout the course of an entire season. Below is a list of those second-year players to average 16-plus points, 6-plus assists and 4-plus rebounds during their sophomore NBA seasons.

Second-Year Player Averages (last 10 years)
	Year	PPG	APG	RPG
Russell Westbrook	2009-10	16.3	8.0	4.8
Chris Paul	2005-06	17.3	8.9	4.4
LeBron James	2003-04	27.2	7.2	7.4
Dwyane Wade	2003-04	24.1	6.8	5.2
Gilbert Arenas	2001-02	18.3	6.3	4.7
Steve Francis	1999-00	19.9	6.5	6.9

Friendly February: With seven straight wins to open the month of February, the Oklahoma City Thunder extended their longest winning streak (nine games) since 2004. By defeating the Toronto Raptors 119-99 on 2/28, OKC finished the month of February with a 9-2 mark (.818). The 81.8% winning percentage is the highest in a given month (minimum 10 games) for the franchise since January 1997 (.846). The 9-2 record proved enough to win Thunder head coach Scott Brooks NBA Coach of the Month honors. In his first full-season as Thunder head-coach, Brooks wins the award for the first time in his career.

All Good Things Must Come to an End: With their loss to the Phoenix Suns on 2/23, the Thunder fell victim to a loss for the first time in nearly a month (1/27 vs. Chicago). The Thunder loss snapped a run of nine straight Oklahoma City victories. The nine consecutive wins is the longest streak for the OKC franchise since the team won nine games in a row after losing its season opener to begin the 2004-05 season (11/5/04 – 11/19/04). Additionally, the nine-game streak at the time was the longest win streak in the NBA. During the nine game undefeated stretch, the Thunder shot 47.5% from the floor while outscoring the opposition by a 104.9 to 96.6 margin.

All-Star Recap: Kevin Durant made his inaugural NBA All-Star debut earlier this season (2/14) at Cowboy Stadium in front of a record crowd of 108,713 on hand to witness a 141-139 Eastern Conference victory. Durant came off the “West” bench to see 20 minutes of action during which time he knocked-down half of his 14 shots en route to 15 points and five rebounds. On Saturday night (2/13), Durant captured his second H-O-R-S-E victory as he eliminated Boston’s Rajon Rondo and Sacramento’s Omri Casspi. Meanwhile, Thunder rookie James Harden and second-year guard Russell Westbrook competed in the T-Mobile Rookie-Sophomore Challenge and Youth Jam held at the American Airlines Center on Friday night (2/12). Westbrook led all scorers with 40 points on 18-29 shooting in 32 minutes of action. James Harden helped lead the rookies to victory as he posted 22 points (9-14 FGs) in just 23 minutes of action. Westbrook was also added as a last-minute replacement for Derrick Rose in the NBA Skills Competition.

Efficient 45: In the Thunder’s outing versus Golden State (1/31), Kevin Durant posted his 14th double-double of the year by recording a season-high 45 points to go along with 11 rebounds. By converting 16-of-21 field goals, KD becomes just the second player in franchise history to record 45+ points on better than 75.0% shooting (Spencer Haywood on 1/7/72; 48 pts on 21-28 FGs). Shaquille O’Neal was the last NBA player to accomplish such a feat {2/27/09 TOR @ PHX (48 pts on 21-28 FGs)}.

Talking Turnovers: During OKC’s game at Milwaukee (1/2), Thunder guard Russell Westbrook handed-out 13 assists without committing a single turnover. With ZERO turnovers against the Bucks, he recorded the most assists (13) without a turnover (in franchise history) since April 8, 2001 (Gary Payton; 15 assists, 0 TO’s). Additionally, it is the most assists without a turnover in the NBA in nearly a year (Chris Paul 15 assists, zero turnovers; 1/6/09). With his zero-turnover performance in the Thunder’s recent win vs. NY (1/11), Westbrook has failed to commit a single turnover in six games this season (5-1 OKC record). As a team, the Oklahoma City Thunder committed 14 or fewer turnovers in EIGHT consecutive games to close 2009 (12/16 – 12/29). On the year, OKC is 30-13 when committing 15 or fewer turnovers.

Technically Speaking: With 14 (individual) technical fouls called through the first 78 games of the 2009-10 season, the Thunder continue their run of being one of the fewest “T’d-Up” teams in the league. During the 2008-09 season, 11 individual technicals (excludes defensive technicals) were whistled on Thunder players and coaches. This total was the fewest awarded to any NBA team during the season. In addition, the Thunder committed 31 total technical fouls (includes individual and defensive 3-second technicals) which tied for the fewest in the NBA (San Antonio). This total also represents the fewest “T’s” committed in the NBA since the 1997-98 season (Golden State; 22).

Close, but... The Oklahoma City Thunder lost four games played between 1/13 – 1/23 (CLE, MEM, DAL and SA) by a combined FIVE points. The aggregate five point deficit is the smallest combined margin of defeat for four consecutive losses in franchise history. It has been more than a decade since another NBA team last experienced four straight losses by a total of just five points (Indiana Pacers; 3/30/99 – 4/10/99).

Select Company: If Kevin Durant were to maintain his current 29-plus scoring clip throughout the remainder of the season, he would find himself amongst some select NBA company. Only LeBron James has posted a higher scoring total than Durant at age 21 or younger. To the right is a list of other notable scoring totals for players age 21 or younger.

NBA's Top Scoring Averages (age 21 or younger)
	Year	PPG	Team
Kevin Durant	2009-10	29.9	OKC
LeBron James	2005-06	31.4	CLE
LeBron James	2004-05	27.2	CLE
Tracey McGrady	2000-01	26.8	HOU
Carmelo Anthony	2005-06	26.5	DEN

Perfection from the Stripe: During OKC's loss to the Sacramento Kings (11/10), Kevin Durant recorded a game-high 37 points in large part due to his efficiency from the charity stripe. Durant set a franchise record by converting 18 made free throws without a miss (also a NBA season-high). Setting all-time franchise records from the free throw line is not unfamiliar to Durant. Last season versus the Los Angeles Clippers (1/23/09), KD converted 24 made free throws (on 26 attempts) en route to a 46-point performance at STAPLES Center. Durant's 24 made free throws set a Thunder franchise record. In addition, Durant set a NBA season-high for most FT's made during the 2008-09 season. In doing so, Durant became one of only four players over the last 20 years to convert 24+ FT's in a single game (MR; LeBron James: 24-of-28 on 3/12/06).

Harden's Greatest Hits: In the Thunder match-ups vs. Orlando (11/18) and Washington (11/20), Harden connected on 10-of-13 3-point field goals including seven consecutive makes during this two-game stretch. The seven consecutive makes ties a rookie record for the most consecutive 3-pointers converted by a first-year player since Michael Dickerson made eight straight for the Houston Rockets (5/4/99-5/5/99). His six 3-point makes at Orlando (11/18) tied a rookie franchise record (Rich Frahm; 12/20/03).

Another Thunder POW: Kevin Durant earned his third Player of the Week honors from the NBA earlier this month after helping guide the Thunder to a record of 4-0 from March 29th through April 4th. During this week long stretch, KD led the league in scoring with 31.5 points per game to go along with 8.0 rebounds per contest. Earlier this season Russell Westbrook earned the NBA's Player of the Week award for games played February 1-7. During the seven day span Westbrook helped lead Oklahoma City to a 3-0 week, including two wins on the road (GS, NO) while averaging 19.7 points, 9.7 assists, 8.0 rebounds and 3.3 steals.

Century Mark: On December 2nd versus the Philadelphia 76ers, Thunder guard Russell Westbrook notched his 100th career game in memorable fashion. In 34 minutes played vs. Philly, Westbrook recorded a season-high 15 assists, marking the 14th time in his career in which he has reached double-figure assist totals. By posting 11 double-doubles (points and assists) through his first 100 career contests, Westbrook becomes one-of-twelve active players to have accomplished the feat. He joins the likes of Jason Kidd, Chris Paul, Allen Iverson and Deron Williams by posting 11-plus double-doubles comprised of points and assists through his first 100 career games played.
